

We live in an area of the West where radio stations are few and far between especially if you are traveling. Even then your music choices are limited and news is almost non-existent. Please, as free Americans, don't take away our right to purchase our personal traveling companion. Thank you.